Basic Business Telephone Etiquette

• Answer calls by the second or third ring.

• Smile when you answer your calls. Even though the caller can’t see it, they’ll hear the smile in your voice.

• Make sure you speak clearly and identify yourself.

• Use a "telephone voice" in which you control your volume and speed. Always use a pleasant, congenial and friendly tone.

• Never eat, drink, or chew gum while you are on a call.

• Always have something available to write with.

• Before placing a caller on hold, ask their permission first and thank them.

• It is better to return a call than to keep someone on hold too long. If the phone rings back to you, you've kept them on hold too long.

• Practice good listening skills.

• If there is a problem, be concerned, empathetic, and apologetic.

• Never be rude to a caller, no matter how nasty they are. Always remember to handle yourself in a professional, business-like manner. This includes handling the situation in a calm, cool manner. If a caller becomes abusive, have an Administrator take the call.

• Learn how to handle several callers simultaneously with ease and grace.

• When you take a call, turn away from your computer, desk, and other work. Don’t allow other distractions to take your attention away from the caller.

• Always get the best number (and an alternate) and the best time to have a call returned to the caller.

• Always hang up the phone gently.

• If you are approached while on a call, always acknowledge the person with a nod or gesture to let them know you will be right with them.
